Mrs. Annie Box swore to having seen the defendant and co-respondent on Manhattan avenue Nov. 11 last. Hattle Gay had a baby in her arms and Glover stopped and kissed it three times. The witness learned that they lived at 201 Green street. Greenpoint, and she went there with Mrs. Glover. They saw Glover coming out of the house carrying a baby. Hattle Gay was with him.

Giver testified that he had moved his bedding from 131 Kent street to 165 Frankita street. When the lawyer asked him where he moved the other articles he replied, "none of your business." He was allowed to step down, and the prosecution rested.

Counsel for the defense stated to the jury that he expected to prove that though Glover was the father of Hattle Gay's child the offense had been condoned by his wite. Miss

There is nothing more provoking when a person is in a hurry to catch a train and, breishless from running up a flight of stairs, when every second counts, finds himself bumping against this machine, and as a result reaches his train just a moment too late. When there is a crowd waiting to get through the situation is, of course, a great deal worse. Crowds are always enger and impattent, and often two or three persons trying to success through the turnstiles at the same time block the passage completely.

If the companies would remove the turnstiles from the stations where the traile is heavy it would not be a bad. For instance, at the Vanderbilt avenue station of the years ago-something that perfectly and thing else fails

The worst chronic cases yield to its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties. See if yours won't. The makers of this Remedy say it will. And they make you this offer: if they can't cure your Catarrh, this offer: if they can't cure your Catarrh, no matter how had your case, they'll pay you $200 in cash—and they mean it.

Here are some of the symptoms of Catarrh: Headache; obstruction of nose; discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacicus, nucous, bloody, putrid, and offensive; eyes weak, ringing in cars, deafness; offensive breath an't impaired taste and smell. You won't have all at once; you won't have any of them, if you'll take Dr. Sago's Remedy.
